Applications for BKV and BKH:

The application must contain:

Important: If in addition to this application you also plan to apply as a visual artist for the Government Grant for Artists, we ask you apply with identical material in you application for NBK. This is due to the capacity of the committee.

Short summary of the application (maximum 200 words):

This text is meant to give the committee a quick understanding of your work thematically and technically, as well as what your plans for the grant period are. This text is important because it is the first thing the committee reads in the application, often just before evaluating the artistic documentation.

About the artist (maximum 350 words):

This text should provide a deeper understanding of your work. You may for example write about overarching goals, motivation and impact for your work, as well as methods, materials and important projects. We recommend focusing on more recent artistic activity and projects from the last five years. This can work as a background for the documented artistic projects in the application.

Artistic plans (maximum 750 words):

This text should give the committee a deeper understanding of your work, and is the very reasoning for why you should be awarded a grant. The text should include an overall description of the artist (oeuvre), as well as describing the plans you have for a possible grant period. For example, you can write about artistic goals and key elements of the artistic work. Please emphasize activity and projects from the last five years (background for documented artworks in the application). What plans do you have for the grant period? This can be, for example, specific exhibitions, projects, courses or in-depth studies, exploration, experimentation, etc. Explain what you want to explore, why you want to do it, how to do it and in what larger context your work is in. Agreements and contracts should not be included in the application, but confirmed agreements can be mentioned in this text or in the CV.

CV:

A CV must be attached to the application, and it has to include an overview over relevant education, solo exhibitions, group exhibitions, purchases, commissions, and received grants. If you have an extensive CV, we recommend that you put together a summary where the highlights of your career the recent years are emphasized. It should not exceed two A4-pages. We recommend that you use reverse chronological order, so that your last exhibitions or the newest activity is listed first.

If you are also applying for the Government Grants for Artists, we ask that you submit the same CV in your application for BKV / BKH.

It will not be possible to send an updated version of the CV after the application deadline. CV is uploaded as a pdf and should not exceed 2 A4 pages.

Attachment - artistic documentation:

Up to 7 attachments (image files, links to audio and video) can be attached in priority order to documentation of artistic work. We do not accept physical attachments. The attachments must be representative of the artist and should mainly document recent works. Multiple works of art cannot be documented in one file. A series or installation can be defined as a work of art. One file may contain multiple images of the same work, but can not exceed two pages. Enter the title, year of production, technique and format for each file.

If you are also applying for the Government Grants for Artists, we ask that you submit the same documentation in your application for BKV / BKH.

Artistic documentation is presented to the committee in full screen display on a TV screen.

- Digital Images are uploaded in jpg, png, or pdf format. Multiple images of the same artwork can be added to a single image file. For example, one can deliver a two-page PDF that shows one image of the work when mounted in the room and one image of the work itself. One pdf should not exceed two pages. We recommend submitting PDFs in landscape format if you have the opportunity. Information on the type of medium, material, format, title and year of production must be filled in. The recommended size of uploaded image material is 2 MB for image files, which works well for on-screen display. It is not a disadvantage for your application if the images are larger than 2MB, but please be aware that larger images could take more time to upload due to limited capacity near the deadline
- Video and audio works can be attached as a web link in the portal, such as Vimeo or SoundCloud. The material cannot exceed 5 minutes. It is recommended that longer material is clearly divided into excerpts, or with a link to where the committee can find the project in its entire length.

N Norske B Billedkunstnere K

- Web links should point directly to the material in question. If login information is required, passwords must be entered in the text box of each attachment. The material must be available for at least 6 months after the application deadline. Information on the type of medium, material, format, title and year of production must be filled in.
- If you do not have the opportunity to upload video and audio work as a web link, you can submit this on a memory stick. Memory stick attachments must be in standard audio or video format that can be played from a computer. The material must be postmarked or delivered in person by the deadline of 15 October 2021 at 13:00. The correct return postage must be attached if you want the memory stick returned.

Guidelines for BKV, BKH and Hans and Helga Reusch's grant

Norwegian Visual Artists' Fund – Billedkunstnernes Vederlagsfond (BKV)

All visual artists that mainly live and work in Norway can apply for grants independent of age, gender, place of residence, artistic expression or organizational affiliation. A sum for grants is set aside by the fund's board yearly, and this is administered and awarded through Norske Billedkunstnere and Norske Billedkunstnere's Grant Committee. The board can tie additional requirements for the committee's use of these means. The Fund's grants can not be awarded to holders of GI (Statens garantiinntekt for kunstnere), the Grant for Senior artists, the Grant for Established Artists, Work Grants of more than one year from the Government or grants of more than one year from The Relief Fund for Visual Artists. The Fund's grants can not be allocated to applicants that simultaneously are awarded the Grant for Senior artists, the Grant for Established Artists, Work Grants of more than one year from the Government or The Relief Fund for Visual Artists, when these grants consist of a higher allocation sum. Nor can grants be allocated to students that are undergoing primary education in the allocation semester. Primary education, as understood here, encompasses all types of education on a bachelor and master level, including non-artistic education. Exceptions apply if the educational programme makes up to a maximum percentage of 50 (15 credits per semester). The Rune Brynstad Memorial Grant is BKV's largest one-year grant, and is applied for at the same time as the other grants from the fund. The allocation is marked by a reception with focus on the receiver, Rune Brynstad and the fund.

Stipends and other individual grants from BKH can be allocated to artists within the visual field that mainly have, or have had, their artistic practice in Norway. The grant is allocated independent of gender, nationality, place of residence or organizational affiliation.

By “artist” one considers practitioners within the visual field, that professionally and occupationally produce, or have produced, the type of work that is levied after The Art Tax (Kunstavgiften). The artistic grants are allocated on grounds of artistic quality, after criteria that are set for the different types of grants.

The purpose of BKH Artist Grant – BKH Kunstnerstipend is to give opportunity for artists to work in peace, and concentrate on their artistic work. The grants are allocated on grounds of artistic quality. The grant can not be allocated to artists that are undergoing education, who receive GI (Statens garantiinntekt for kunstnere) or have other work grants of more than one year, per the 1. January of the year it is to be given out.

The purpose of BKH Artist Grant for Senior Artists – BKH kunstnerstipend for seniorkunstnere is to stimulate artistic activity for older, professionally active artists. Photographers may apply as visual artists. The Grant can be allocated to artists that turn 57 years within the application-year, and that wish to actualize an artistic project limited in time. The grant can also be used for explorations in the artist’s artistic work, per example studies and testing of artistic methods. The application should contain a description of the project/exploration that the artist wishes to actualize, using the grant. The grant can not be allocated to artists that receive GI (Statens garantiinntekt for kunstnere) or have other work grants of more than one year.

Hans and Helga Reusch’s grant is a foundation that supports the education of artistic painters. The funds are allocated to persons younger than 35 years of age. The funds can only be awarded to a person once, and preferably as an award for previous work. The allocation of available funds are processed according to allocations by the The NBK Grant Committee. More information can be found at the UNIFOR website.

Differences between governmental working grants and grants from BKV and BKH

The governmental work grants and the ten-year grants given out by Kulturrådet, is paid monthly as earned income. For these grants there is a demand that the receiver can not work more than 50% in another position. One attains social rights by receiving work grants, since the grants are paid as earned income and the state pays employer’s tax to the Folketrygd. be aware that there is a report duty from the Government Grants for Artists. For more information see kulturradet.no.

The grants from BKH and BKV are paid in one and two payouts, respectively, and are counted as business income. In this instance there is no income limit, and the artist can be allocated grants from BKV and BKH even though they already have a job with a employment percentage above 50%. These grants do not provide the same social rights as the work grants. However, as business income, one can deduct expenses in the tax returns, and only the potential profit is taxable.

General tips for a good application

- Remember that the committee has to evaluate a great amount of applications in a short span of time, so it is important to get to the core of your work early on in the text. Keep the text short and concrete, and avoid unnecessary complicated terms and language. It is not expected that the applicant should write the maximum amount of words allowed. Some will need more text than others in order for the committee to fully understand their work.
- Prioritize to use time on the text, this is important. Get help from others to read through the text, and sleep on it before you hand in the application. A clear and concise text will provide a good entrance point to the distinct qualities of your work. Remember that the committee members that are going to read your application are all artists themselves.

- Focus on the art when writing your application. If you have had longer periods of low activity due to parental leave, illness or other causes, this can be explained with a short sentence or a point in the CV if you find it to be relevant for the committee's evaluation.
- Be careful when writing your CV. The information you give here will make up the foundation for the activity assessment. Completed exhibitions and projects must be written correctly, and upcoming activity that is mentioned must be confirmed.
- Follow the limitations when it comes to the number of image attachments and minutes of video/sound. If you extend beyond this limitation the committee will only be able to look through parts of your documentation, and you lose control over what the committee will be able to evaluate.
- Have in mind that the artistic documentation that you deliver should give the committee a quick understanding of the project's format, size and other qualities. Feel free to put an installation picture or picture of a detail in addition to documentation of the work itself (if you upload a two-page pdf). A publication can also be documented as a video that shows someone reading through it. Do not place too much text in the picture files, this might disturb the committee's evaluation of the project. It is better to summarize the information in the voluntary attachment "utfyllende informasjon om vedlegg" if larger amount of text is needed.
- Apply to all of the grants you are qualified for. Deliver an application in both application portals (NBK and the Arts Council Norway) if you have the opportunity.
- There are many people on the line seeking assistance the last few days before the deadline, so it is ideal to start on the application well ahead of the deadline.
- We recommend that you work with the text locally on your computer and save it there before pasting it into the application form. This is in case of technical difficulties.

- Do you wish to apply using a paper form?

Applicants that do not have the possibility to deliver an application to BKV and BKH through NBK's application portal can contact NBK for having paper forms sent to them. If applicable, visual material and attachments must then be delivered on a memory stick together with the filled-out forms. Applications on paper must be delivered to NBK or postmarked within the deadline. Applications and attachments post-stamped on a later date will not be processed.

N Norske
B Billedkunstnere
K
